Vision

The vision is to erect a symbolic sculpture standing 18 feet tall, which involves three major religions on the theme of World Peace. This traveling, interactive exhibit or permanent installation is meant to make a major statement for World Peace.

May there be peace on Earth?

“In the name of God, why has so much blood been shed? These symbols are not a license for prejudice, injustice and death. They are symbols of peace, love and harmony, in the name of God”

“A Sculpture for World Peace” – Milestones

Liam has engaged in many projects that utilized this subject; an initial Mixed Medium Sculpture standing at the Sedona Creative Life Centre and several projects which included:

- “Embracing Our Differences”, an International Art Exhibit in Sarasota, Florida. Liam’s “In the Name of God” sculpture was superimposed on a billboard display, which was exhibited with 39 other billboards of artists and students from around the world representing various interpretations of how we all need to “embrace our differences rather than fight each other with hatred and prejudice.”
- “Times Square Alliance Art Project.” Liam entered this as a result of a call for artists. “I had worked in the theatre district as a Production Property Master of Broadway Shows for 27 years and was moved to enter my “In the Name of God” concept after they arrested a terrorist whose car was planted in Times Square with explosives ready to be set off. I felt that the theatre community has always embraced the differences between all people.”

“A Sculpture for World Peace” - Milestones

- In a continuing effort to make a statement, this sculpture has evolved to take on the mission of bringing a global awareness to the masses of how important the subject of World Peace still is today.
- Liam has now expanded his concept to allow for an interactive traveling exhibit or permanent installation that allows the participants to be placed in the middle of the never-ending conflict over religions. “With this interactive art installation, I want the viewer to experience a vortex of energy that sends a chill throughout their being.”
- Now named “A Sculpture For World Peace”, as one reads and hears the words: *“In the name of God, why has so much blood been shed? These symbols are not a license for prejudice, injustice and death. They are symbols of peace, love and harmony, in the name of God. Those who look up will see the opening between the sword’s sharp and piercing points, revealing the calmness of heaven that we all share. Those who look down will see an image of earth beneath them. It represents our planet that we all share as one. May we have Peace on Earth.”

International exhibit honors Sedona artist

Sedona artist Liam Herbert was selected for an international art exhibit, Embracing Our Differences, held in Sarasota, Fla., until Monday, May 3. Herbert was one of 39 artists chosen out of more than 2,300 artists. The responses were as far reaching as 43 countries and 38 states.

Embracing Our Differences is an international outdoor art exhibit intended to demonstrate in a positive way that diversity enriches our lives. The mission of Embracing Our Differences is to use art as a catalyst for creating awareness and promoting, throughout the community, the value of diversity, the benefits of inclusion and the significance of the active rejection of hatred and prejudice.

The Embracing Our Differences exhibit features 39 billboard-size images created by professional artists, art students, and schoolchildren from Florida and around the world. Their creations reflect their interpretation of the message, "enriching lives through diversity." More than 150,000 people were expected to view this year's exhibit, according to a press release.

Herbert is proud to promote his message of peace on earth. His vision is to create a monumental sculpture 30 to 40 feet tall. "I truly feel that with the help of others this dream can become a reality," Herbert stated.

Join Herbert at the Kinion Fine Art Vault on First Friday, May 7, from 5 to 8 p.m. Signed posters will be available. The gallery is located at 361 Forest Road in Uptown. Call 203-0234 for more information.
